

June 13, 1994

Since 1991, many parents, the Native PTA
members have patiently waited for networks
and cable TV to voluntarily design and implement programs for children's needs - is there any direction voluntary? No - many tasks and just taking (B.S.) walks - ~~and~~ there must be advertisements, creative new companies ~~that can develop and support children's T.V.~~
not "fluff", not to back down to children but help parents & children to enjoy family viewing.

Dear Mr. Thundt,

For years I have been concerned about the content on television programs & how it negatively impacts on this nation's apidure.

Please do something on your power to make television & cable companies accountable for improving children's TV & lessening the amounts of violence & sex on TV during prime time. Thank you.

Dear Honorable Hundt,

As a mother of four, grandmother of two, I'm asking that you see your position to view the problem of children T.V. programming and whether it's negative effect on children. I formerly believe that children programs should be of the finest quality, informative and give children a sense of what is the best of his surroundings and ~~the~~ ^{the} world around them.

Sincerely,
Doris Sieker

Be positive!

DEAR MR. WILSON

The 1991 Children's Television Act implementation has been quite inadequate according to a 1993 California School of Communications study showing the following averages (as of 1991)

THE "DOLLY DOLPHIN" AFRICAN INFORMATION
MESSAGES FOR CHILDREN ARE NOT BEING MET
THROUGH PUBLIC-TV AIRWAVES. PLEASE PUT RESOURCES AND TIME WHERE THEY ARE NEEDED TO GREATLY INCREASE CHILDREN'S

Monica Reed Hunt,
As the mother of 3 children, I write you today to express my concern on the standards for children's television.
Violence on the streets and on TV is unacceptable to me. We need stricter regulations on children's TV.
Please support legislation on this
most important issue. Monica Person

Dear Sir -

I am glad to see the back of appropriate bills and propositions on TV & what ever happened to the Oklahoma Television Act (10-1-1941) and where are we going to get resources about what we are teaching the young people in our country with the task that is being brought over material to ?

Eugene Swallow

Our children & teens are seeing too much sex & violence on TV these days. Their young minds see the wrong messages about this on TV.
We, as adults, need to provide more
"family" oriented type programs.
And the music video stations are - awful! These should never be allowed on TV. Adults must take responsibility for appropriate programs.

Sincerely,

Marilyn Gath, PTA

Mr. Hundt,

The TV industry is abusing their duty to provide for specially designed TV programs to serve the educational and informational needs of children as required by the 1991 Children's Television Act. Please hold them to a proper standard.

As an advocate for children, a member of the Horizon Elementary School but most important a parent of two young daughters, I must hold you and the Federal Communications Commission accountable to the Children's Television Act of 1991. I am accountable for the television that my own children watch (which is extremely limited) but I have little control over other children yet they directly affect the environment that my children grow up in. We are not asking that you be censored but that we offer equal showing (at least) of educational and informative children's programming. Our children (yours and mine) deserve at least that and I will expect your agency to not just put words on paper but to be accountable/responsible. Make sure that what is passed is also enacted to the fullest.

Do where it may concern,

I feel the fact should more closely reflect the violence being shown to our children. These violent programs are, I feel,
a large part of the violence in our world.

I hope this new ~~program~~³ more educational programs for our children.

I would also like to see more
family programs towards ending
harm.
